Two Mexicans have been arrested in connection with the massive breach of Target Corp.'s systems.

The pair, Daniel Dominguez Guardiola and Mary Carmen Vaquera Garcia, were trying to enter the U.S. in McAllen,

Texas, with 90 fraudulent payment cards, according to the Chicago Tribune, and authorities eventually collected 22 more.

It is too early to say whether authorities are looking for more suspects, police told the Tribune.

Target said last month that up to 40 million credit and debit card accounts used for purchases at its stores were illegally accessed by cybercriminals from Nov. 27 to Dec. 15. The home and email addresses of up to 70 million in-store and online customers may have also been taken, Target later said.
